Holly Trees

are surely among the most glorious of all our trees. They bring to your garden their own incomparable richness, beauty and charm the year 'round. In summertime they have serenity and dignity, either as a lovely background, as distinguished specimen trees, or as a handsome hedge of unforgettable splendor.

But it is in wintertime, when other trees are leafless, and when the ground is covered with snow, that the crisp deep evergreen foliage and bright red berries of the Holly tree grace your garden with cheerfulness, animation and gaiety . . . a thing of startling beauty, a joy forever.
